Third Sunday of Easter - Year C - 1st May 2022

Dear Parishioners and Visitors

Peter and others have returned to the sea. They have left Jerusalem. They have come home to the Sea of Tiberias, the place where it all began. Peter decides to go fishing. He knows how to do that. It is familiar and comfortable. Perhaps it takes him back to life before Jesus. The others are quick to join him.

When life gets difficult, when we become lost, confused, and afraid, when the changes of life are not what we wanted people tend to run away. We try to go back to the way it was before, to something safe, something familiar. Often, we revert to old patterns of behaviour and thinking, it seems easier than moving forward.

Christ can appear right in front of us and we may still not believe in Him because what He does is so far outside of our normal experiences and expectations.

We can sense in today's Gospel that the disciples want to believe, but to believe asks quite a bit of them because they had seen the Lord Jesus die. How many times we see the Lord Jesus die in our lives! Jesus die in our lives when we exclude God, when we treat others and even ourselves in negative ways, when we ignore God in our personal life, when we close the door of love and forgiveness. Jesus die again and again.

When we feel the darkness around, when we feel everything is lost, when we feel everyone has left, then once again Jesus may break through and show us that He is alive and risen, and still we can reject or accept. Jesus comes to be our Saviour, but so many today, do not want a Saviour who is not ready to adjust to their way of life and it is not easy to believe and follow! Jesus may not adjust but He accepts us as we are.

We should not be surprised that we live in a messy world. The world has always been a mess and that is why a Saviour came for us. But salvation is never imposed on us. Instead, we are invited to live our lives in the way our Saviour taught us and actually know the difference in our way of life.

Risen Christ brings new hope and new peace in our lives together with the question, do you love me?

Lord's Blessings, Fr Regi

Third Sunday of Easter – Year C

First Reading A reading from the Acts of the Apostles

The high priest demanded an explanation of the apostles. 'We gave you a formal warning,' he said 'not to preach in this name, and what have you done? You have filled Jerusalem with your teaching, and seem determined to fix the guilt of this man's death on us.' In reply Peter and the apostles said, 'Obedience to God comes before obedience to men; it was the God of our ancestors who raised up Jesus, but it was you who had him executed by hanging on a tree. By his own right hand God has now raised him up to be leader and saviour, to give repentance and forgiveness of sins through him to Israel. We are witnesses to all this, we and the Holy Spirit whom God has given to those who obey him.' They warned the apostles not to speak in the name of Jesus and released them. And so they left the presence of the Sanhedrin glad to have had the honour of suffering humiliation for the sake of the name.

Second Reading A reading from the book of the Apocalypse

In my vision, I, John, heard the sound of an immense number of angels gathered round the throne and the animals and the elders; there were ten thousand times ten thousand of them and thousands upon thousands, shouting, 'The Lamb that was sacrificed is worthy to be given power, riches, wisdom, strength, honour, glory and blessing.' Then I heard all the living things in creation - everything that lives in the air, and on the ground, and under the ground, and in the sea, crying, 'To the One who is sitting on the throne and to the Lamb, be all praise, honour, glory and power, for ever and ever.' And the four animals said, 'Amen'; and the elders prostrated themselves to worship.

Gospel A reading from the holy Gospel according to John

Jesus showed himself again to his disciples. It was by the Sea of Tiberias, and it happened like this: Simon Peter, Thomas called the Twin, Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee and two more of his disciples were together. Simon Peter said, 'I'm going fishing.' They replied, 'We'll come with you.' They went out and got into the boat but caught nothing that night. It was light by now and there stood Jesus on the shore, though the disciples did not realise that it was Jesus. Jesus called out, 'Have you caught anything, friends?' And when they answered, 'No,' he said, 'Throw the net out to starboard and you'll find something.' So they dropped the net, and there were so many fish that they could not haul it in. The disciple Jesus loved said to Peter, 'It is the Lord.' At these words 'It is the Lord,' Simon Peter, who had practically nothing on, wrapped his cloak round him and jumped into the water. The other disciples came on in the boat, towing the net and the fish; they were only about a hundred yards from land. As soon as they came ashore they saw that there was some bread there, and a charcoal fire with fish cooking on it. Jesus said, 'Bring some of the fish you have just caught.' Simon Peter went aboard and dragged the net to the shore, full of big fish, one hundred and fifty-three of them; and in spite of there being so many the net was not broken. Jesus said to them, 'Come and have breakfast.' None of the disciples was bold enough to ask, 'who are you?'; they knew quite well it was the Lord. Jesus then stepped forward, took the bread and gave it to them, and the same with the fish. This was the third time that Jesus showed himself to the disciples after rising from the dead.
